Star to Pave
Parking Lot at Division & Shover

This is notice to employees of Shanhouse & Sons that Hope Star's parking lot on the Division & Shover Sts. corner opposite their jacket factory will be closed for probably a week beginning Monday, June 6. Official notice to this effect is being mailed the Shanhouse firm today for posting on the employee bulletin-board.

The Star regrets this inconvenience to its parking customers but all accounts will be credited for the time the lot is closed.

The closing is necessary because Star Publishing Co. has entered into a contract with the City of Hope to regravel, grade, and blacktop the entire property, measuring 150 by 134 feet.

The deal was closed with Dave Peters, superintendent of the Street Department, for $1,185.25. In addition there will be the expense of installing new metal markers for the parking stalls.

Mrs. C. E. Palmer and your writer, as the owners of Star Publishing Co., are happy to announce that this property improvement will be made without any change in the parking fee of $8 per month.

We are able to do this because the property has been fully rented and justifies this additional capital expenditure.

And a paved parking lot will do away with a lot of petty nuisances, such as water puddles after rain, chug-holes in the gravel, and the ever-recurring weeds that scratch runners in working girls' hose.

It's expensive, but we believe we're on the road to ending all these complaints.

Superintendent Peters of the City Street Department thinks the paving job may require three days or more, but just to be on the safe side we want all cars off the lot beginning Monday, June 6 — and kept off for the rest of the week. Because, after the blacktopping is finished there will still be the job of installing metal markers for the stalls. And of course we will give public notice the minute parking may be resumed.

Hero Turns Out to Be a Burglar

NEW YORK (AP) — Less than a day after he was hailed as a hero for rescuing a boy burned by a high-voltage power line, John Dennis, 28, stood in Criminal Court on a burglary charge.

Judge Herbert I. Sorin asked Monday: "Are you the man who rescued the little boy?"

Dennis said he was, and the judge said: "I was very proud of you, but now I'm disillusioned. First you acted like a real citizen and the you do something like this. What got into you?"

"We're going to try to help you. The court is going to be lenient. I'm going to parole you for a hearing. Now you can go home. I hope you appreciate what the court did for you."

Dennis, who on Sunday rescued Ronnie Perez, 11, after the boy caught fire following a brush with a railroad power line, was charged with burglarizing a Brooklyn service station.

The boy, who toppled off a fence and plunged 30 feet to the freight tracks of the long island rail road, was reported in critical condition.

Nashville Officer Missing in Pacific

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Mary O. Ferguson of Nashville has been notified by the Navy that her son, Lt. Walter H. Linzy, is missing and presumed dead in the South Pacific.

The Navy said Linzy and three other crew members bailed out of a crippled plane near the Phillipine Islands Sunday and they have not been found.

I-30 Paving at Fulton Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bids on 14 highway construction projects costing an estimated $7.5 million will be opened June 22, the State Highway Department said Tuesday.

HMPSTEAD—Grading, laying base and surfacing of about 4.4 miles of Interstate 30 north east from the red lake interchange east of Fulton.

TELEVISION EYE—A technician at Hughes Aircraft Co., Culver City, Calif., marks off area Surveyor's camera (center top) will focus on first. After examining texture of surface encountered by crushable aluminum footpad (foreground), camera will swivel around 360 degrees of moonscape taking photographs for transmission to earth.

Surveyor 1 Has Hopes of Nation

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, streaking toward a landing on the moon Thursday morning, carries not only a camera but this nation's hopes of making the first touchdown gentle enough for men to survive.

Surveyor is due to settle on a broad equatorial plain at 2:17 a.m. EDT and begin radioing pictures which will help scientists pick the safest areas for Apollo astronaut landings later in this decade.

If everything works, Surveyor will fire retro-rockets to break its approach speed from 6,100 miles an hour to 3 1/2 miles an hour, then drop gently the final 14 feet with less impact than a parachutist feels on earth.

The Soviet Union's ball-shaped Luna 9, which radioed the first pictures from the lunar surface last Feb. 3, apparently was ejected from a carrier vehicle at a height of several hundred feet.

Fulbright Again Raps War Policy

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., says the United States is pressuring the way in Viet Nam toward an undesirable military triumph, rather than pursuing the stated goal of a negotiated peace.

The state Insurance Commission granted Tuesday a 21.2 per cent rate increase on auto liability insurance sold by firms operating in Arkansas.

It is disturbing that the Insurance Commission should allow another large increase in automobile liability insurance, the second in less than 13 months, the Republican candidate for governor said. "The total increase since May 5, 1965, has been some 37 per cent," he said.

"It is unbelievable that such a burden should have been imposed on people without a public hearing, without some individual consideration," Rockefeller said in a statement issued from his headquarters here.

Calls Insurance Hikes Robbery and Politics

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here are the facts and figures about today's Gemini 9 launching:

Astronauts: Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford, 35, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan, 32.

Launch times: Atlas to boost target satellite into orbit at 11 a.m. (EDT), Titan 2 to land Gemini 9 at 12:38 p.m.

Goals: Practice different rendezvous and docking techniques with target satellite; Cernan to take 2 1/2-hour space walk on second day, evaluating his ability to move about with a rocket-powered back pack on a 150-foot tether.

Landing: Saturday in the western Atlantic after flight of 70 hours, 40 minutes.

17 Millions Enrolled in Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration reported today that more than 17 million Americans — 90 per cent of those eligible — paid $3 each to sign up for extra medical benefits. The deadline for enrolling was midnight Tuesday.

Chandler said Combs is either being misled by someone in his department or by insurance companies.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Once again the machine has imposed a major financial burden on the people of Arkansas in typical arrogant fashion, Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday night of increased auto insurance rates.

The state Insurance Commission granted Tuesday a 21.2 per cent rate increase on auto liability insurance sold by firms operating in Arkansas.

If the administration persists in the policy "as I see it," a million American soldiers may eventually be required in Viet Nam and the military reserves may have to be called to active duty, he said.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said this policy also increases the risk of war with Red China and casts doubts on U.S. claims that it wants to end the war at the conference table.

Fulbright, in an hour-long discussion with newsmen in his home state Tuesday, also took to task two of the administration's spokesmen on the Viet Nam war.

Native Arkansan Is Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Spec. 5 Roy M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Jones of near Widener, Ark., has been killed in the Viet Nam fighting, the Defense Department announced Tuesday.

Negro Man Is Elected Sheriff in Alabama

By REX THOMAS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The first Negro nominated for sheriff in Alabama since Reconstruction days held out a jubilant promise today of fair and efficient law enforcement.

Despite a split in the ranks of Negro voters, Lucius A. Amerson won the Democratic nomination in Macon County Tuesday in a run off primary in which three other Negro candidates triumphed over white opponents.

In the remaining 22 white vs. Negro contests which highlighted an otherwise uneventful statewide party election, the Negro candidates went down to defeat, including one of the state's best known civil rights attorneys, Fred D. Gray.

Significantly, none of the eight Negroes who sought seats in the legislature was successful. Thus until there is a vacancy or until a new legislature is chosen in 1970, the state's lawmaking assembly will be composed of 141 white members.

Direct Phone Dialing Here on June 26

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here are the facts and figures about today's Gemini 9 launching:

Astronauts: Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford, 35, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan, 32.

Launch times: Atlas to boost target satellite into orbit at 11 a.m. (EDT), Titan 2 to land Gemini 9 at 12:38 p.m.

The manager said most of the complicated work of installing the complex equipment which will put the nation at the fingertips of all Hope telephone users, is now completed.

"We must carry out exhaustive series of tests before the conversion date to indicate that all the equipment is functioning just as it should," Meeks said.

Direct distance dialing is the result of years of research and development by the finest scientific and engineering minds in America, all of whom worked with the idea of making telephone service easier, faster and more economical than ever before.

Meeks explained how the DDD system works:

"When you dial the digit '1,' this connects your telephone to the direct distant dialing equipment. Then, when you dial the three-digit 'area code' for the particular locality or town you want to call, the equipment registers this number."

"Lastly, when you dial the telephone number in the distant city you're calling, the switching system searches out the best path to the city and the telephone you want to reach."

"Should your call encounter a circuit or locality which is already 'busy,' it will seek another route, until you have a clear path to the city and the number you're calling and the connection is completed."

"All this takes place in a matter of seconds," Meeks elaborated. "This is why we refer to DDD as a 'miracle' of modern day communications."

The manager concluded by saying that DDD, in addition to being very fast and very efficient, is also very economical. "All DDD calls are station-to-station calls, and this is the lowest priced kind of long distance calling yet devised in years of research and development."

June 26 is the date to remember. Meeks reminded Starling early that morning all telephone users in the Hope area will have "The nation at their fingertips."

Catholic Bible School Planned

Vacation Bible school will be held at our Lady of Good Hope Catholic Church June 6 through June 10. Two Sisters and two lay teachers from St. Scholastica's Academy, Fort Smith, will conduct classes.

The sessions start daily at 9 a.m. ending with Mass and Communion at 11:30 a.m. Registration will be held at 8:45 a.m. June 6 in Parish Hall.

ARKANSAS

Sen. J. William Fulbright says the U.S. is pressing the war in Viet Nam toward an undesirable military triumph, rather than pursuing negotiated goal of negotiated peace.

Only three of the eight Democratic candidates for governor say they believe the program is the key to victory in the summer primary.

The blazin doubleheader launching was to start at 1 a.m. (EDT) with the thundering blastoff of an atlas rocket that the astronauts were to chase across the sky had been fired into a near-perfect circular orbit. Ground stations were unable to confirm that a shroud covering the docking collar had alien away as planned.

"We were ready two weeks ago and we're ready now," come to mind Eugene A. Cernan as he and command pilot Thomas P. Stafford prepared for three action-filled days in space, rehearsing procedures for man-to-the-moon trips.

The blazin doubleheader launching was to start at 12:38 p.m., hopefully catching and hitching up to the target 4 1/2 hours later.

If the target fails to reach orbit as an Agena did on May 17, Gemini 9 will be launched anyway to gain space walk experience.

Technicians Tuesday night cleared up a minor electrical problem in the Atlas and the green light was flashed to start the countdown.

To a greater degree than ever before Stafford and Cernan will exploit the techniques of rendezvous, docking and space walking pioneered on earlier Gemini missions.

The crowded flight plan for the bold journey calls for nine separate hookups with the target; three different types of rendezvous with the satellite, and a record 2 1/2-hour space stroll by Cernan, flitting about with a rocket-powered back pack.

Throughout the three-day flight, Stafford and Cernan planned to keep tabs on the progress of Surveyor 1, the spidery spacecraft soaring toward a hoped-for soft-landing on the moon.

Calls Insurance Hikes Robbery and Politics

By RALPH DIGHTON

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Winslow Chandler, a Democratic candidate for governor, has called the increase in statewide automobile insurance rates "nothing short of robbery."

Harvey G. Combs, the state insurance commissioner, announced Tuesday a 21.2 per cent increase in liability and a 3.2 per cent increase in collision rates for 81 companies represented by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters of New York.

Combs also announced a 14.9 per cent increase in liability and physical damage insurance premium rates for the Travelers Insurance Co. which is independent of the rating bureaus.

Chandler said in a statement:

Kiwanians Told of Summer Play

Charles Gough, Parks and Recreational Program Director, appeared before Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday and outlined a projected summer program for Hope that will include expanded facilities and additional personnel to carry out the program.

Mr. Gough paid tribute to the Kiwanians for their early efforts and foresight in expanding recreational facilities at Fair Park, and also for the continuing efforts of the club in aiding the Youth Program in this area—which includes annual donations from funds raised by the Kiwanis Minstrel and Variety Show.

Leonard Ellis, director of advertising of the annual minstrel souvenir program, reported to the club that this year's gross revenue from advertising amounted to $1,515. Ticket sales from the minstrel show in Hope will swell the total to near $2,000.

The minstrel was presented to Blevins, Nashville and Prescott this year, but all funds from admission sales went to those communities to aid in their Youth programs.

Chancery Judge Wesley Howard and his son, Wesley Jr., were guests. Charles Erwin was introduced as a new member of the club.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
BERLIN (AP) — When an actor named Segal makes a movie about neo-Nazism in Berlin, how does he feel?

"Very strange," says George Segal. "Very strange indeed."

The fast-rising young actor is the sole American in the international cast of "The Quiller Memorandum." The story depicts the rise of Nazi feeling in today's Germany. The film subject is reported to have stirred some concern among the Germans, ever conscious of their image to the world.

Since he is Jewish, Segal remarked, "I never expected to be in Berlin; I never expected to be in this country."

But the lure of a good script overcame his feelings, and he is here now playing a secret agent who investigates an outbreak of violence caused by latter-day Nazis.

Then came "The Centurions," now titled "Lost Command."

Mrs. Billy Terrell Aldridge

Miss Myra Ella McEarl of Hot Springs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. McEarl, and Billy Terrell Aldridge, son of Mrs. Edward Wallace of Hope, exchanged vows in the Park Place Baptist Church in Hot Springs, Saturday, May 28 at 8 p.m.

Rev. O. Damon Shook officiated at the double-ring ceremony before a setting of candleabras and baskets of white gadiolias and pink roses.

Mr. Franklin Smith sang, "Whether Thou Goest," and Mrs. Franklin Smith played "More" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie with an empire waist and lace covered bodice and sleeves. The lace train fell from beneath a large satin bow and swept into a chapel train. The elbow length veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Judy Ann McEarl, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor length rose satin gown with a white overlayer lace bodice. Her rose net veil fitted at the crown and was accented with a bow. She carried a long stem pink rose.

Miss Sandy Dodd, Miss Gail Knippers and Miss Jan Robbins, bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the maid of honor's. Miss Tracy Scriven, dressed in a white and rose floor length dress, was the flower girl and Robert L. Whisenant, Jr. was ringbearer.

Edward Wallace of Hope served as best man and groomsman were Larry Lawrence and Anthony Pierce of Hope; and Herley McMoran of Wayne, Ark.

The reception was held in the lower auditorium of the church. The serving table was covered with a pink cloth overlayed with rose net and caught at corners with white bows and frosted bells. The five tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Pat Coulter and Miss Janie Reece served the cake and Miss Rita Rogers served the pink punch.

For travel the bride changed into a navy linen suit with navy accessories and she pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip through the Ozarks and Missouri the couple will be at home in Arkansas.

Unenforceable Rules: Are They Good Or Bad?

Dear Helen: Unenforceable rules about smoking & drinking for young people are ridiculous. Everybody knows a teen can get cigarettes whenever he wants them. Who watches the machines? For that matter, many parents buy cigarettes for their 14-year-olds — they've already recognized unenforceable laws, liquor likewise. Ask any teen. He can get whiskey, beer, vodka, gin — anything — any time he wants it by slipping the money to an "Adult."

Why don't the lawmakers realize this and lower the smoking age to 16, drinking age to 18? If kids knew they could indulge without going against authority, they wouldn't be compelled to rebel just to show they were "grown-up." I think it would actually lessen the cigarette and liquor problem among young people.

A lot of psychiatrists back me up. Arguments, anyone? — Art.

Dear Art: I don't think lowering the age limits would lessen the cigarette and liquor problems of youth, and I doubt that it would heighten them appreciably either.

But here's a thought: If as some psychiatrists say, teens want rules so they can break them, then perhaps we'd better keep a few semi-unenforceable rules on the book so that they won't graduate to the next rule. If we lower drinking age to 18, they'd shoot for 16; same with smokes. If we condoned all those things the "marchers" march for — free speech, free love — rebel will find some other cause, like "Free LSD for all." Young people don't want adult capitulation — it takes all the fun out of rebelling and makes them search for further limits to test. — H.

Honest Is Its Own Reward

Dear Helen: Is there any rule about what you are supposed to pay someone who finds your purse (or whatever) and returns it? I did, and I got a crummy quarter. — Shortchanged

Dear Short: Only the Golden Rule. Sorry about that. — H.

$156,297 for Hill, Winner
of Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Graham Hill of London, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race on his first try, received the biggest payoff of his life Tuesday night — $156,297.

"I'm very impressed with the size of this check," the 37-year-old Englishman told an audience of 900 attending the annual victory dinner.

"I must say I'm not used to this, but I did bring along a couple of Scottish accountants to handle it," said Hill, first Indianapolis Motor Speedway rookie to win the 500 since George Souders in 1927.

Ex-Champs Must Qualify for U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Former champions Cary Middlecoff and Ed Furgol and the man who has won more tournaments than any other, Sam Snead, are among those who will have to qualify next week for the 66th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The tournament is scheduled June 16-19 at the Olympic Club in San Francisco.

A total of 4,988 golfers — 382 professionals and 116 amateurs — will compete in 13 regional 36-hole playoffs for the 123 remaining places in the championship field. Six trials are scheduled Tuesday, June 7.

Twenty-eight players, including defending champion Gary Player and four-time winner Ben Hogan, are exempt from qualifying. Hogan, who almost won his fifth Open title at San Francisco in 1965, was given a special exemption, raising the field to 51.

More than half of the places yet to be filled will be determined at three sites — Detroit, Memphis and New York, who will have a total of 62 spots.

At Detroit, 64 players compete for 24 positions; at Memphis, 42 for 19, and in Metropolitan New York, 87 for 19.

Other qualifying sites, number of entries and places open include:

June 6 — Los Angeles, 30-7; Denver, 15-2; Chicago, 42-9; Kansas City 25-5, Cincinnati 34-7.

June 7 — San Francisco, 44-9; Washington 42-8; Atlanta 31-6; Dallas-Fort Worth, 20-4; Tacoma, Wash., 22-4.

Baseball Says League Is Held Captive

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A judgment finding baseball in violation of Wisconsin antitrust law is "holding the National League captive," baseball attorneys have told the State Supreme Court.

The judgment by Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller violates "basic constitutional rights," the attorneys said.

The statements were contained in arguments or briefs submitted to the high court in advance of a June 9 hearing on the National League's appeal of Roller's ruling.

The arguments were submitted Friday, but their contents were not disclosed until Tuesday because of the Memorial Day weekend.

The arguments were similar to those already raised by the defense before Judge Roller who found against baseball after a month-long trial.

The defense maintained that Roller lacked jurisdiction in ordering the Atlanta Braves to return to Milwaukee unless the National League agreed to expand to include Milwaukee in 1967.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It was 1 p.m. and Dean Chance had the covers pulled over his head, trying to shut out the sun as well as the conversation from the other side of the room.

Chance had been through it all before — the making-of-an-American-hero syndrome — but not as an observer. In 1964 he was the Cy Young Award winner which goes to the best pitcher in baseball.

Two years later, after what the sporting public calls a mediocre season (15-10) for one of its super stars, Chance was rooming with Rick Reichardt, tall blond and muscular.

The phone rang often. Now, however, the calls were for Reichardt.

"Unbelievable," Rick said. "It wasn't like this until we got to New York."

The excitement is over Reichardt's early success (among the American League's top 10 batters after the first month) plus the fact that Rick is not an ordinary rookie.

He is a $200,000 bonus boy, the highest paid in baseball history.

Only two years ago the California Angels took him off the University of Wisconsin campus, handed him his bounty and brought him East to join the parent club for a week before sending him to the minors.

As he stepped into the batting cage, the remarks started. It was the natural reaction from ballplayers who had spent 10 years in the majors after signing for the price of a bus ride following World War II.

"It bothered me some," Reichardt said, "but what bothered me most were my own inadequacies."

It was a new situation for Rick. "Inadequate" was a word he never used.

At Wisconsin, he was a star football and baseball player. He led the Big Ten in receiving and played in one of the most thrilling Rose Bowl games, the Badgers' 42-37 victory over Southern Cal in 1963. In baseball, he hit .427 and .472.

"I just didn't realize," he said, "what experience means to a ballplayer. It's an intangible. You know you have it when you do things without thinking. Watch the great ones like Mays and Mantle. They do things instinctively."

"I knew what I had to learn because I was being embarrassed. I messed up on bunts, on cut-off throws, on all the little things you have to know to be a good ballplayer. That's what I worked on the past two years."

"Honestly, I didn't know when we started the season if I even would make the club. I only had a fair spring, but in the opening game I changed my stance a little by holding my bat out like Frank Robinson does. It helped my swing and I've been hitting well since."

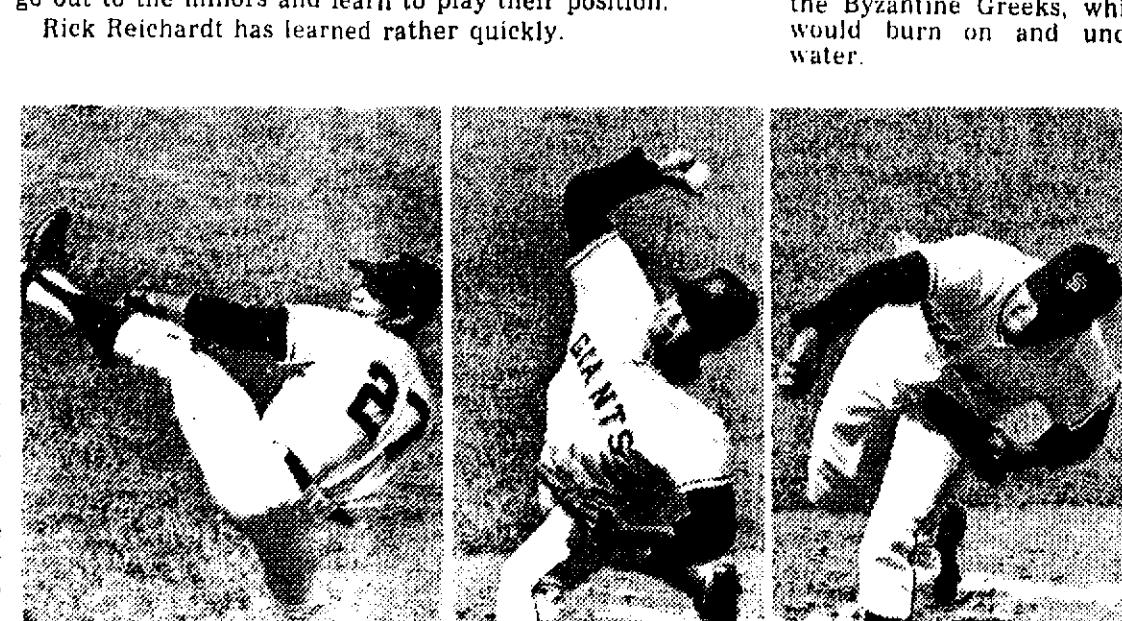

"But to me the optimal situation is one in which a player can go through as many games as possible without making a mistake."

"There are guys around who can hit .300 but still have to go out to the minors and learn to play their position."

Rick Reichardt has learned rather quickly.

SECOND GLANCE — Disgusted at first, Australian Bruce Devlin turned away from his putt. But he looked back just in case it might drop. He was right the first time.

Greek fire was an incendiary composition, used by the Byzantine Greeks, which would burn on and under water.

THE BEST? Closing in on the No. 1 spot among major league pitchers, San Francisco's Juan Marichal brought the record to 9-0 with a 14-inning 1-0 whitewash of Philadelphia.

'Upper Class' Negroes Are Criticized

By JOSEPH E. MOHABAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice

launched the already controversial White House Conference on Civil Rights today by sharply criticizing upper-class Negroes who ignore the plight of their less fortunate fellow Negroes.

Keynoting the conference "to fulfill these rights," Humphrey said in a prepared address there are "Negro Americans who appear more concerned about their own positions than about the plight of those less fortunate, less articulate members of their race."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Sun's Rays Should Be Taken in Moderation

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Photosensitivity is just a long word to some people. To others it is a nightmare because even slight exposure to the sun's rays will give them an itching skin eruption or a severe sunburn.

All such persons are made worse by taking such modern drugs as sulfas, including those used to treat diabetes; certain antibiotics — griseofulvin, given for ringworm, and the tetracyclines; nalidixic acid, a urinary antibiotic; and sedatives of the phenothiazine group.

The same effect, but to a lesser degree, may be caused by barbiturates, salicylates, estrogens, gold salts, quinine and procaine. Even such products as eau de cologne and perfumes may cause an exaggerated sunburn if they contain bergamot or citron oils.

Persons who have pellagra, (a vitamin deficiency disease), lupus erythematosus, porphyria, eczema or contact dermatitis must be careful not only to avoid the sun's rays but also the drugs mentioned.

The best sunscreen preparations to apply locally are those that contain red veterinary petroleum (RVP) or para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA). The antihistamines used for allergic types of hypersensitivity are of no value and salves that contain antihistamines should be avoided by light-sensitive persons because they frequently aggravate the trouble.

Large doses of vitamin B-6 taken 30 minutes before exposure have prevented sunburn in some light-sensitive persons.

On the bright side it has been found that some diseases are benefited by exposure to sunlight. These include psoriasis, some forms of allergic dermatitis or hives, acne, pityriasis and skin tuberculosis. For most of us, however, the watchword where sunlight is concerned should be MODERATION.

Q — I had poliomyelitis about 13 years ago. Can I safely give blood?

A — To be able to donate blood a person should be between 21 and 60 and in good health. His pulse, blood pressure and hemoglobin level should be normal. He should not have given blood within the preceding 2 months and not more than 4 times in the preceding year. He should not have had a tooth removed in

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, PRINTED BY OFFICE CITIES NEED FOR DRIVER EDUCATION

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A full-scale driver education program in Arkansas is needed as a matter of self defense, says Dale Alford of Little Rock. Alford, a Democratic candidate for governor, said he would start by beefing up high school driver education programs.

The Little Rock eye doctor told a civic club here that an estimated 30,000 Arkansas high school youths reached driving age each year.

"The price we would pay in years ahead for not training these beginner would be an intolerable waste of lives and resources," he said.

INCOME TAXES INCREASED IN CANADA

Higher income taxes for all but the lowest paid workers became effective in Canada today in an effort to rein in inflationary pressures.

This is the second tax change in a year. As an example, a married man with two children, minimum deductions and a salary of $150 a week was paying $19.10 of his income prior to last July 1. Then the withholding was cut to 17.45. Today it was raised to $18.75.

There are variations by provinces, depending on how they and the national government share tax funds.

Another anti-inflation move: Corporations are paying monthly a new refundable tax amounting to five per cent of cash profits. After 18 months this money will be repaid with interest over an extended period. The idea is to drain off money now with the hope that pressure will be easier later on.

The conference meetings ended Friday morning with the reading of pastoral appointments by Bishop Paul V. Galloway.

The Romans were familiar with the sport of ferreting, the employment of ferrets in destroying rats and other vermin and in driving rabbits from their burrows. Ferreting is still practiced in many parts of the world. When used to hunt rabbits the ferret is provided with a muzzle or a cope to prevent killing its quarry. Ferrets once were used in the western United States but since the disappearance of the prairie dog - its main source of food - the ferret faces extinction.

Oswald asks, "What is the first thing you do in timing your play of a no-trump contract?"

Jim: "I sort of reverse the word 'ARCH' and ask myself, 'How can I make this hand?' I study the opening lead to see if my opponents have led against my weakest suit. They usually seem to do that nasty thing. Then I check to see if I can collect enough tricks to make my contract before they set up their suit and cash enough tricks to beat me."

Oswald: "Today's hand illustrates this. South has the four top hearts but unfortunately for his peace of mind and general well-being these four cards can only take two tricks. He misses two aces and if his opponents set up their suit they will make at least three heart tricks and set him. It is up to South to find a way to get nine tricks without giving up the lead more than once."

Jim: "A quick check would show me that I had three suits to work on. I could knock out the ace of spades and wind up with three spades, two hearts and two diamonds but that would be only seven tricks. I could go after diamonds and set up my long diamonds right away assuming that suit broke but that would also leave me only seven tricks before the roof fell in."

Oswald: "That leaves the club suit. You can attack that by winning the first heart with your queen and leading the nine of clubs from your hand. You plan to let it ride if West plays low. If East produces the queen you will have to reconcile yourself to going down at least two tricks but if it turns out that West holds the queen of clubs you have a chance to establish five club tricks for yourself. Five clubs plus two hearts plus two diamonds gives you the nine tricks you need."

Q-The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♦ 1 ♠
Pass 2 ♦ Pass
You, South, hold:
A Q 9 5 3 ♦ 3 2 ♦ 4 3 ♦ K J 7 5
What do you do?"

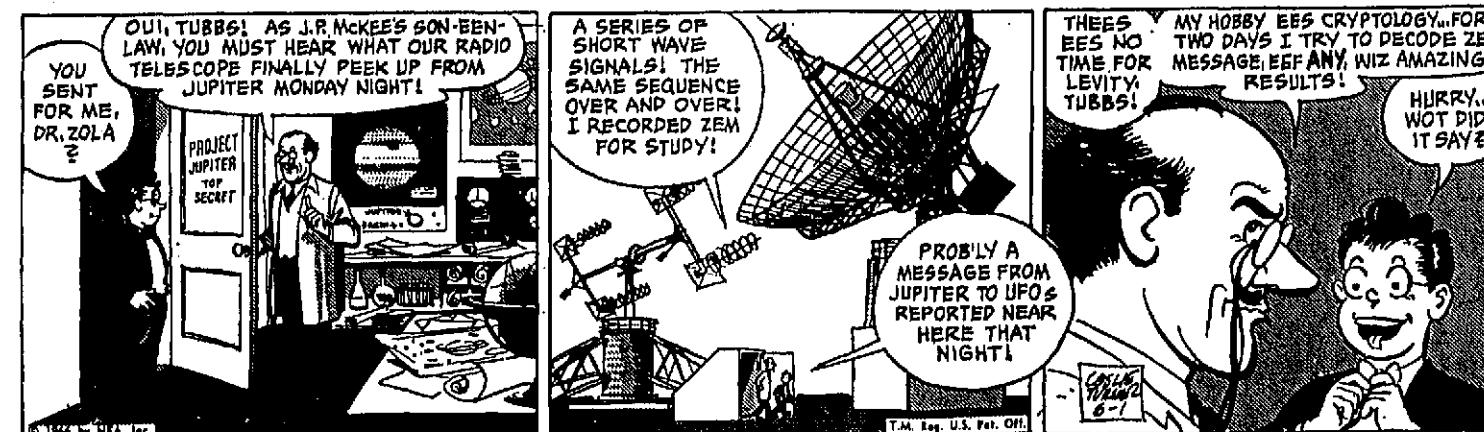

A-Pass. You have a minimum overall and a new suit bid in response to an overall. It is definitely not a force.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The drafty-tent, can-of-beans-over-the-fire type of camping is as old hat today as the dowdy dungarees and dirty sneakers that were the costume for the event.

Modern camping trailers with many of the conveniences of home now make sightseeing and resort visiting as much a part of a camping vacation as the traditional hiking and fishing. And this change of pace calls for careful planning in the wardrobe department.

Here is where modern, man-made fibers can give you an extensive and truly carefree wardrobe for every activity on the agenda...

If you won't feel you're on a camping trip unless you have your trusty blue jeans and old sneakers along, take them. You'll get plenty of mileage out of them. But they won't add a thing to the family prestige in a restaurant or when visiting points of interest in the nearest city.

A list of fashions to take on a family camping vacation should include:

- Pants and shorts for the girls and slacks and shorts for the men and boys in durable, press Dacron polyester and cotton to assure lasting neatness with no ironing.

- Knit tops in textured Antron nylon or Orlon acrylic to co-ordinate with the pants and shorts. These knits are washable and shape-retaining.

- Quick-drying swimwear in nylon or Orlon knit.

- Colorful jackets and sweaters, sport shirts and blouses in easy-care fabrics to fill the family's needs for active sportswear.

- For sightseeing or city visiting a good-looking suit in packable, wrinkle-free combinations of Dacron with rayon or cotton is a must for the feminine side of the safari.

She still likes working, but she says it simply isn't as much fun as it used to be. She thinks the atmosphere in Hollywood today is too businesslike.

She remembers the days when the studio was a place for fun and games. There was no luck.

The other is Mary Todd Lincoln. Bette Davis thinks maybe a new script has licked the problem of getting Mrs. Lincoln in scene form and she has high hopes for this project.

"There's one scene I want to do so much," she says. "It's a true story but few people know it. Years after her husband was assassinated, she went to Europe. She was lonely and bitter. She came back to New York on the boat and, when the ship docked, there was a huge crowd on the pier."

"How wonderful," Mrs. Lincoln said.

"They remember me." But what she didn't know was that the crowd had come out to welcome Sarah Bernhardt on her first visit to the United States."

Until parts like this come along, she'll do things like the vengeful widow on Gun-smoke. Next she'll have fun being the Red

Queen in a television adaptation of "Alice

In Wonderland."
